

Quality Policy Statement

Dyas Electrical Engineers Limited provide electrical engineering design and installation services to a cross range of diverse and exacting customers in both the commercial and industrial sectors.

Founded in 1980 Dyas are an established electrical engineering company with a solid reputation for technical excellence. The purpose of Dyas is to provide first class electrical engineering services and to be the number one choice for both existing and new customers.

Dyas are committed to the following quality policy requirements;

1. Ensuring that we frequently review our business context and any resulting changes to our risk management processes.
2. Every employee at Dyas committed to 'Self-Inspection' of his or her own work at all stages of the business process.
3. The development of an effective problem-solving culture.
4. Set quality objectives and associated programmes of work between and as part of the management review process.
5. Meet and where possible surpass customer requirements.
6. Committed to continual improvement of our quality management system based on ISO 9001:2015.
7. Ensuring the quality policy is communicated to each of our employees and to interested parties on request.

This policy is reviewed periodically.
